101 CORE SKILLS NEEDED TO BE A GREAT MANAGER

More than 15,000 managers worldwide were interviewed to assess what skills they thought were most important, and what skills and behaviours they most wanted to see in the people who they managed.

The core skills area highlights the 101 most important skills, behaviours and competencies that the managers recommended - and that managers most need to know. Based on the core skills the resources and materials have been mapped to 18 categories, as shown below.
